JAMES J. CARLAN
Flying Home to Aid Search

Call Neighbors In Kidnap Quiz

A woman neighbor whose identity was closely guarded, several neighborhood youngsters and Mrs. Rose Carlan were brought together by police at 3 p. m. today in a new and unexplained phase of the kidnaping of the latter's little son, Ronnie.

Chief Insp. Kirby called the group in conference at an Arlington st. house, not far from where the child was stolen. He said he hoped to clear up several matters that thus far have baffled police.

Meanwhile, James Carlan, the baby's Navy-dad, was speeding from New York by train and was expected home early tonight. In his trip from his California base, he arrived in Washington this morning and made further connections that dropped him at a New York airport at 11:30 a. m.

El Airport Bid Rejected By 3-2 Vote

The State Public Utilities Commission today denied the public the right to 25-cent transportation to Logan International Airport in East Boston.

The commission dismissed, by vote of 3 to 2, the Boston Elevated's petition to operate a deluxe bus service at that fare. The only transportation now available is by taxi or by limousine of a new company recently licensed by the commission to operate for a 75-cent fare.

The three Democratic members of the commission, Thomas H. Flaherty, John M. Whouley and Francis M. McKeown, voting against the petition said that the Elevated had failed to prove the necessity of the deluxe bus line at this time.

Carroll L. Meins and David M. Brackman, in a dissenting opinion, stated that "perusal of the records containing testimony at public hearings will convince even the most sceptical that public convenience and necessity have been abundantly proven."

The commission's decision was made despite testimony by civic, business, industrial and airline officials urging the establishment of such a service by the Elevated.

The commission had previously granted permission to the Sutcliffe Storage and Warehouse Co. to operate buses between Boston and the airport.

It was pointed out that the only move now left to the Elevated officials is an appeal to the Supreme Court asking a reversal of the decision by the public utilities commission.

Mystery Call Clue In Ronnie Kidnap

The first break in the search for 6-months-old Ronnie Carlan came today in a strange telephone call to the home of his distraught mother—a call which Chelsea investigators believe was the voice of the mysterious woman kidnaper. "How was the woman who took the baby dressed?" was the startling question which greeted the baby's mother, Mrs. Rose Carlan, 23, when she answered one of the many calls reaching the house hourly. "Who is calling—who is calling?" Mrs. Carlan questioned, excitedly.

"Never mind," the woman caller replied. "Just tell me, did the children get a good description of the woman that took the baby?"

Mrs. Carlan, almost at the point of collapse after two sleepless nights, replied angrily, "That's all been printed in the newspapers. I beg of you, tell me who you are." But the woman hung up without another word.

Chief Insp. John J. Kirby, who is heading a hunt, was at the Carlan's Arlington st. home only minutes after being told of the mystery call.

With telephone officials aiding, every effort is being made to trace the call. During his visit, Kirby learned that little Ronnie was molested by three youngsters the day before he was snatched from his carriage Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Carlan said she had been so hysterical since her baby had been taken that she had forgotten the incident, but did recall that she had driven off the little trio who had been "hurting" the child.

Meanwhile, veterans, private detectives, milkmen, store clerks and thousands of school children continued to help police in the hunt for the mysterious woman in black who picked up Ronnie and hurried away down Everett st., glancing furtively back.

In addition to a little girl and a gate tender who reported seeing the woman, there are now three others who have come forward to give good descriptions of the woman who is so wanted.

Kirby said he was counting most on the aid of school children for a breaking clue. Thousands of them are on the lookout for a new baby—or a baby's cry. All are asked to notify police at once if a strange baby is seen in their neighborhood.

Mrs. Carlan remains unconsoled and refuses sleeping tablets prescribed by her physician.

She is staying in the upstairs apartment of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Carlan, hugging her older son, James, Jr., who despite his young years knows that something is very wrong.

"Jimmy, Jimmy, Jimmy," she cries constantly. "Don't let me see Jimmy. Who could do this awful thing to us? Won't they please bring Ronnie home?"

Police did not disclose their new witnesses today, save to say in addition to the railroad gate tender and a young child, they have found three others who saw the woman believed to be the kidnapper. One of them is a warehouse workman along the route the woman took on Everett st. to Maple st. All tell the same story and one man vows he saw the woman later on Everett st., this time without the baby.

This is the reason all homes in that two-block area are being searched. Residents have been asked by Mayor Bernard Sullivan to allow police to enter. Sullivan ordered that search warrants be obtained if residents refuse police.

Pressed into service also were all milkmen of Chelsea, as well as those in near-by communities. Helping also are drug store and store clerks. Police notification is requested if any stranger buys grade A or homogenized milk, strained baby food, Pabulum or cough syrup.

The one person who might comfort Ronnie's hysterical mother was held up by snow and sleet at

Elliott's Blaze Killed For Chewing Up Fala

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Blaze, Elliott Roosevelt's bull mastiff of transcontinental plane ride fame, licked the late President's scottie, Fala, but paid for the victory with his life. The state health department said today Blaze was destroyed, as a precaution, by Dr. Thomas Sheldon, Rhinebeck veterinarian, but that examination of Blaze's head showed the dog did not have rabies.

The department received Blaze's head Tuesday from Dr. Sheldon. Fala was admitted to Dr. Sheldon's hospital Saturday. Several stitches were needed to close Fala's wounds and he was weak from loss of blood, Dr. Sheldon said.

Fala, a visitor Saturday at the Roosevelt Hyde Park estate, while ambling across a lawn met the 135-pound Blaze. Fur began to fly—from the scottie—but the mastiff was unharmed.

Fala's injuries consisted of deep gashes on his back and sides and lacerations of his right eye.

Dr. Sheldon said that Fala, a 20-pound lightweight, was lucky to have survived the bull mastiff's attack.

"I can only repeat hearsay," he said. "I understand Fala was on a leash last Saturday morning at Hyde Park, where he was taken to visit (from the home of Miss Margaret Suckley, cousin of the late President at Rhinebeck), when he was attacked by Blaze. I believe one of the persons on the scene—I wasn't told who witnessed it—hit Blaze on the head with a large rock to halt the massacre," she said. "Furthermore, I don't know what you're talking about."

Then she asked the reporter: "I don't see how you even heard about it—who told you?"

Told the Associated Press had revealed the facts, Mrs. Roosevelt said: "Go back to your office and telephone the Associated Press and tell them to mind their own business."

Elliott was beset with further woes when it was reported from New York that he and his actress wife, Faye Emerson, had been omitted from the Social Register.

Hess Amnesia Faked, He Admits at War Trial

By DANIEL DE LUCE

NUERNBERG, Nov. 30 (AP)—Rudolf Hess told the International Military Tribunal today he accepted "full responsibility for all I have done, signed or co-signed," and that he wished to continue on trial with his fellow Nazis.

Hess declared that he had feigned loss of memory, even to his own attorney, for "tactical reasons."

The court adjourned for the day without announcing a ruling on the mental fitness of the former Deputy Fuehrer.

Hess' case was brought up after a surprise German witness testified that Germany's leading spy expert long plotted against Hitler and finally was executed in 1944 after failure of the bomb plot against the Fuehrer.

Adm. Walter Wilhelm Canaris, mysterious Greek-blooded chief of the German army's counterespionage section who "discovered" and later betrayed Mata Hari in World War I, was named as a leader of the anti-Hitler military clique by Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahousen, Canaris' aide, who related the grim inside story of German scheming and aggression.

Lahousen said Canaris, who ran the German spy service disguised as a commercial agency during the days of the German republic, hated Hitler and headed a military clique which plotted against the Nazi leader from the time he rose to power. Canaris was among scores of military leaders executed after Hitler escaped death in the 1944 assassination attempt.

Lahousen said high command orders to assassinate two French generals, Maxime Weygand and Henri Giraud, were thwarted by Canaris.

Lahousen testified that Field Marshal Wilhelm Kietel, a defendant, wanted German agents to murder the two French military leaders to remove them as possible centers of French resistance.

Canaris declared former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop once asserted that "all farms of Poles must be burned to the ground and all Jews killed" in the invasion of Poland.

FBI Corners Bridgeport Thug Who Kidnaped Florida Girl

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 30 (INS)—Pretty Corrine Lewis recounted for Sheriff Erin Johnson and FBI agents the details of a day of horror during which she said she twice was criminally attacked by a bandit who kidnaped her during a cocktail lounge holdup in Clearwater, Fla. FBI agents and State Police of Georgia and Tennessee reported they had the bandit, Walter Dodge Schacht of Bridgeport, Ct., a convict and self-styled bad man, cornered in the mountains north of Knoxville, Tenn. Schacht, 25, walked into the lounge and at the point of a revolver took $200.

He backed out of the place holding Miss Lewis, a waitress, in front of him and escaped with her in an automobile, presumably his own.

He forced Miss Lewis out of the car in Waycross after once having a minor accident when the car went in a ditch just across the Georgia line near Jacksonville, Fla.

While the car was in the ditch, Miss Lewis told authorities, Schacht attacked her after striking her several times with the butt of the revolver.

Later, near Waycross, she said he forced her to disrobe and attacked her the second time, finally giving her $25 and forcing her from the car.

While they were crossing a four-mile causeway across Tampa Bay, Miss Lewis said, Schacht told her:

"Don't make any noise, Babe, because I don't mind tossing you in the water. I've killed men before."

Schacht faces a charge of armed robbery in Clearwater, the maximum penalty on conviction being the death sentence in Florida. The FBI moved in after Schacht crossed the Georgia State line with his prisoner.

Probe Death of Kansas Sailor, Mutilation of Body

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas has begun an investigation into the death of merchant seaman Rodney M. Sanborn, 23, whose body, the boy's father charged, was returned unclad and mutilated and unattended from Saint Elizabeth Hospital, Washington.

The father, Guy F. Sanborn, Wichita, Kan., said incisions had been made in the boy's skull and none of them had been sewed.

He said he had no information as to the cause of death except he had been told it was the result of an accident on shipboard. He told the Governor officials had refused to reveal the nature of the accident on the ground it was a military secret.

He cited two letters from the naval hospital, one of which he said attributed Sanborn's death to infection in injuries to both knees while a second said it was caused by infection in an arm.

Sanborn said an authorized autopsy apparently was performed, mainly on the head and face, because the boy's nose was "pushed out of position" and the "face was not in proportion."

A sworn statement by a Wichita mortuary attested to the statements the body was mutilated, naked and unattended.

GM, Union Meet On Picket Issue

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—

While awaiting conferences next week with federal conciliators, General Motors Corp. today took up with the CIO United Auto Workers' Union what it considers one of the knottiest problems in the 10-day strike—"illegal picketing" at the struck plants. The corporation agreed to meet with chief U. S. Conciliator Edgar L. Warren in Washington next Tuesday, but told him negotiations with the union, as recommended yesterday by President Truman, wouldn't be resumed until the latter modifies its picketing practices and its "30 per cent or else" wage demands.

Representing the UAW-CIO at today's discussion—first meeting of the two parties since the strike began—was Vice-Pres. Walter P. Reuther, who has denied the company's charge of illegality on the picket lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)

—On the Senate floor today five senators urged an immediate end of the wartime draft after Sen. Revercomb, (R.) of West Virginia, reported that voluntary Army enlistments had reached a rate of 175,000 monthly.

Sens. Taft (R.) of Ohio, George (D.) of Georgia, Willis (R.) of Indiana and Young (R.) of North Dakota, urged Revercomb to press his resolution calling for termination of selective service.

The West Virginia Republican said the War Department informed him the Army had obtained 12,000 volunteers in September, 65,000 in October and 81,094 between Nov. 1 and 15.

"That November figure," said Revercomb, "is an average of 5700 a day on 175,000 a month. President Truman told us when hostilities with Japan ended that we would need only 50,000 a month for the armed forces."

Revercomb favored immediate action to stop drafting of all fathers and the release of all fathers now in the service under selective service.

Replying to a question by Sen. George, Revercomb said the last Navy report showed 500 enlistments daily in October.

"Then I urge the Senator to press his resolution," George said.

Call on Congress For Sugar Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Cries arose in Congress today for government action to ease sugar shortage. Both Republicans and Democrats joined in the clamor. Meanwhile, a two-way congressional investigation gathered steam.

The chief demand for federal action came from an unofficial Republican food study committee. Rep. Jonkman (R.) of Michigan said in a House speech:

A survey by the G. O. P. group showed "there will be 1,500,000 more tons of sugar for United States civilians in 1946 than in 1945."

Accordingly, the government should announce immediately revised and increased sugar quotas, particularly for the food industry. Chairman Pace (D.) of Georgia, of the House food investigating committee, promptly questioned the Republican figures.

Pace told a reporter: "It is impossible now to estimate what supplies will be available next year."

Likewise, an Agriculture Department spokesman said "figures are not available now to support any predictions." Sec. Anderson said recently sugar supplies would remain tight in 1946, with rationing likely throughout the year.

Pace added his committee would call on Agriculture Department officials to testify, probably next week, in an effort to "get the facts" regarding the sugar situation.

Curley Picks Codman as Fire Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Russell S. Codman, Jr., prominent Boston Republican, will be fire commissioner of Boston and Joseph A. Scolopnetti will be corporation counsel, Mayor-elect Curley said today in announcing appointments he will make in his official family.

Curley also said he will appoint Lt. Col. David J. Brickley as soldiers' relief commissioner.

Codman, a real estate man, and member of an old Boston family, was one of the prominent members of the GOP to support Curley in his campaign. He has served on the State Fire Prevention Commission, and is a member of the International Fire Chiefs Ass'n.

Scolopnetti has long been a Curley supporter and has served the mayor-elect as unpaid member of the Boston Finance Commission and as counsel to the state bank commissioner. Scolopnetti is now in Washington as assistant counsel to Curley at his trial there.

Lt. Col. Brickley, a veteran of both World Wars, has a distinguished record as a soldier. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal, the Croix de Guerre and the British Service Cross.

Col. Brickley lives on Temple st., West Roxbury. Scolopnetti lives on May st., Jamaica Plain, and Codman maintains a home on Marlboro st., Back Bay and a summer residence at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

FRANCE TO GRAB BANKS

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The De Gaulle government proposed to the Constituent Assembly today the nationalization of the Bank of France and four other major banks.

Gifford was called to the stand in district court in the trial of Cong. James M. Curley and four others on charges of violating the mail fraud statutes in the operation of Engineers' Group, Inc.

He said he first heard of Engineers' Group when he was introduced to Cong. Curley in the lobby of Boston's Copley Plaza Hotel in August, 1941, by David E. Desmond, who also is indicted but not on trial at present because of illness.

Curley, he said, arranged for him to meet another defendant, James G. Fuller, in New York and he, Gifford, left the same day by train for a meeting at the Sherry Netherlands hotel.

Gifford said he and Fuller drew up an agreement by which Engineers' Group was to obtain him a contract for an Alexandria, Va., housing project for a fee of $3400. He said the $3100 was a down payment on the fee.

Later, he testified, a supplementary agreement was drawn because of changes in costs but no additional money was paid by him.

On the same day, Aug. 22, 1941, he said he entered another agreement with Fuller for erection of a 10-story building in Washington. He paid $2500 of a total fee of $25,000 which the Engineers' Group was to be paid but got this money back when the deal fell through, he said.

He testified his company finally decided to withdraw from the agreement on the Alexandria project in December, because of the labor and construction situation and so notified Fuller Dec. 8.

He said he requested a refund of his $3100 in accordance with the terms of the agreement and received a check Jan. 15, 1942, payable to his company and signed by Donald Wakefield Smith, treasurer of Engineers' Group, Inc., Smith, former NLRB member, is a defendant in the case.

Accompanying the check, he said, was a letter from Fuller requesting him to withhold the check from deposit until he received a "go ahead" from the latter. He said he finally notified Fuller that he was going to deposit the check Feb. 15, 1942.

The check was deposited in the company's account with the Worcester County Trust Co., and was "dishonored" by the Washington bank on which it was drawn on Feb. 17, he said.

"Did you ever get the $3100 or any part of it?" asked John M. Kelly, assistant to the Attorney-General, and the witness replied in the negative.

Judge James M. Proctor adjourned the trial until Monday morning, again cautioning the jurors against reading about or discussing the case. Gifford will not return to the stand Monday in the event his wife's illness does not prevent him from coming back to Washington. Also listed as a witness Monday is John W. Powers, president of the J. J. Powers Co., Cambridge, Mass., contractors.

45-Minute Plea By Yamashita

MANILA, Nov. 30 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita told his trial court today that he not only never authorized his subordinates to commit atrocities in the Philippines, but "if the present situation will permit, I will punish them to the fullest extent of military law."

His declaration was made in a 45-minute address to the U. S. military commission trying him on war-crimes charges.

He denied ever stating that he refused to declare Manila an open city because it would be a dishonor to Japanese arms.

Jap Peer Raps Chummy Conduct

TOKYO, Nov. 30 (AP)—The manner in which Japanese girls and boys are fraternizing with Americans was criticized today in the House of Peers by Koichiro Nagaoaka.

"Although it is a good idea to mix and learn things, the way girls and boys are conducting themselves now is not the way to win respect," he said.

He apparently was referring to the arm-in-arm strolling of Japanese girls with Yanks and other departures from the usual staid behavior of Japanese in public.

Soviet Troops Delay Quitting Manchuria

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (AP)—Withdrawal of Soviet troops from Manchuria by Dec. 3, in accordance with provisions of the Soviet-Chinese treaty of Aug. 14, has been postponed, the Soviet Tass Agency said today.

Chinese Gen. Sun Shi-hui said the Central Chinese government was experiencing difficulties in transporting its army into Manchuria.

6 British Planes Bomb Indonesians

BATAVIA, Nov. 30 (INS)—Six Mosquito bombers today attacked Indonesian artillery in Central Java which for several days has shelled British troops and former Allied internees, killing 13 and wounding 19.

Fighting broke out again between Dutch and Indonesian forces in Bandoeng. British troops, with air cover, have cleared the northern half of the city.

French Protest Rebuke by Yanks

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The French Foreign Office refused today to accept American blame for occupation difficulties in Germany, characterizing as unjustified the criticisms of Gen. Eisenhower and Byron Price, special investigator for President Truman.

IRAN ENVOY STRICKEN
MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (AP)—Madjid Ahy, Iranian ambassador to Russia, was in the Kremlin hospital today suffering from a serious illness.

ing sight of Boston were the troops. Kokomo Victory, Smith Victory, Sedalia Victory, Leabon and the Edward Grieg with more than 4200 men aboard. They were expected to dock tomorrow.

Three more transports are due to reach port early Saturday.

The heaviest surf in years battered at beach-front homes in Winthrop, causing the collapse of at least two and the undermining of foundations of a score more along Winthrop Shore drive.

Seven families were evacuated from homes in Trident ave, Coral ave. and Perkins st. Police and building inspectors were checking damage to other houses and feared several other families would be forced to leave.

Damage estimated at thousands of dollars was reported to homes in Nantucket.

State highway crews worked steadily to keep roads open. More than 400 plows were in operation.

A tide of 13½ feet, more than four feet above that predicted in the tide table, was driven in by the storm and flooded wharves and cellars along Atlantic ave.

One thousand feet of Route 3-A was flooded in Hingham but auto traffic could still pass.

Schools in Boston and in almost all communities in the metropolitan area were closed today.

Set afloat when the towline of a Coast Guard cutter snapped while attempting to rescue its crew of 11 the 75-foot fishing boat Emily H was missing amid mountains was somewhere east of Nantucket.

The 3-foot cabin cruiser Tarra of Newport, R. I., was also reported missing.

In Boston harbor the freighter

Fordham Victory was still fast on the rocks at Spectacle Island with Coast Guard craft standing by to haul her off when the storm abated.

The freighter San Spice, with 30 crewmen aboard, dragged her anchor and went aground on Castle Island. Navy authorities said she was in no immediate danger.

Dr. James V. Sacchetti, superintendent of Long Island Hospital, reported the milk supply was exhausted because no deliveries had been made since Wednesday morning. He said there was enough food on the island to last another 48 hours.

All communication with Deer Island was cut off today when telephone lines went out.

The Governor's office notified state department heads to release all but skeleton staffs at 3 p. m. today.

Off the Hull shore the old passenger boat Town of Hull was aground, while at Marblehead the 72-foot yawl Midnight Sun was also aground. No one was reported aboard either vessel.

In the city proper, the street department had a force of 2200 men, 100 plows and 27 sanders at work clearing streets and highways.

The weather station atop Mt. Washington, N. H., recorded wind velocities of 109 miles an hour.

Long Island Hospital was hard hit, with rooms and tunnels in various buildings flooded. The main kitchen had to be bailed out and parts of the nurses' home, Mrs. Ethel Fisher, 48, Henry st., Atlantic, suffered a fractured wrist when she fell on Congress st. Another woman, Miss Bernice McAvoy, 41, Boston st., Dorchester, slipped in the slush in Dorchester st. and suffered a broken ankle.

James Walsh, 65, Marshall st., Medford, Boston & Maine trackman, was struck by a locomotive while cleaning snow from switches at Fruit Terminal, Rutherford ave., Charlestown. He was treated at Massachusetts General Hospital for cuts of the face and right hand.

Exhausted while delivering milk in Roxbury, Victor Bianchi, 34, of Myrtle st., Medford, collapsed and was taken to City Hospital where he was treated and released.

Heavy damage was reported to bathhouses, wharves and the sea wall at Oak Bluffs. Roads from Vineyard Haven to Oak Bluffs were impassable due to high water.

Boston El cars and buses maintained nearly normal schedules despite the severe storm conditions. Interurban bus lines reported most buses were getting through the storm.

A Haverhill man, Edward Anton, 49, seriously ill in his home, was unable to get medical aid despite efforts of police to plow a path for a doctor to the Lowell ave. residence.

Groveland truckmen refused to clear roads unless the town boosted their pay from $3 to $3.50 an hour.

Boat owners and lobstermen in Marblehead reported destruction of at least five vessels and loss of gear valued at $40,000.

U. S. Envoy to Receive Nobel Prize for Hull

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 30 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Lithgow Osborne will represent Cordell Hull Dec. 12 when the former U. S. Secretary of State will be presented the Nobel Peace Prize for 1945.

Hull will be unable to attend.

Morning Drinks Win Her Divorce

When she objected to her husband's suggestion of cocktails for breakfast, he struck her, Mrs. Marlon Rogers Collins of Cedar Lane way, Beacon Hill, today told Judge Frederick J. Dillon in Suffolk Probate Court where she won an uncontested divorce from Paul Collins, a stock broker.

The incident occurred, she testified, at the North Scituate summer home of her mother in 1942. She testified that on another occasion she had to sleep in the bathroom.

Mrs. Collins, given the right to resume her maiden name, refused alimony.

In the same court Mrs. Regina Smith, proprietor of a guest house on Appleton st., South End, was granted a divorce from Samuel T. Smith of Brookline, whom she testified was too ardent, even to coming home on his lunch hour to make love. She also said girls called him on the phone at their home.

Joseph T. Murphy of Dorchester, a city constable, was granted a divorce from Estelle Kosla Murphy of Springfield on grounds of desertion.

Churchill, 71, Will Have Family Party

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill was 71 today. Hundreds of messages poured in from all parts of the world.

A party will be given at Churchill's Hyde Park Gate home tonight for his family and intimate friends.

11,000 Marines Due Home Soon

SASEBO, Japan, Nov. 30 (AP)—Veterans of the Iwo Jima, Saipan and Tinian invasions are going home at last, in the largest single transfer of men of U. S. Marine Corps history.

Headquarters here is processing 17,000 men and when the job is completed, 11,000 Marines will be ready for the homeward trip with the Fifth Marine Division.

High-pointers from the Second Marine Division, at Nagasaki, and from the Fifth Amphibious Corps at Sasebo will return to the states with the Fifth. Low-pointers of the Fifth Division will be left in Japan.

Tentative loading dates are Dec. 9 and Dec. 15.

Medal Urged For Lindbergh

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Rep. Mason, Rep., of Illinois, declared today that Charles A. Lindbergh "is the Billy Mitchell of this war" and demanded restoration of the Army Air Force reserve commission Lindbergh resigned after a dispute with President Roosevelt in 1941.

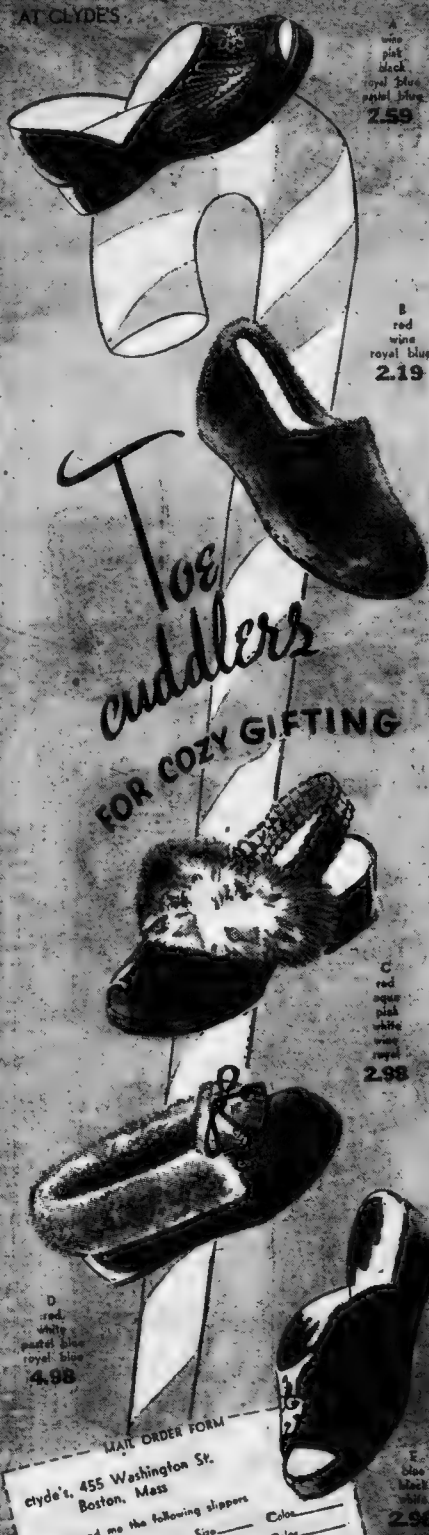

Mason asserted Lindbergh "shot down several enemy planes" while making "test flights as a civilian expert in the Southwest Pacific and should be awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

Canadian Troops To Land in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The giant British liner Queen Elizabeth, now being used in repatriation of Canadian troops, will dock at New York Dec. 7 instead of at Halifax because the Canadian port is subject to winter storms.

Servicemen will be transported to Canada by train.

Grew, Hull Reveal FDR Spurred Japs

By JOHN T. FLYNN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Only two witnesses, Hull and Grew, have testified before the Pearl Harbor probes about our diplomatic game preceding war in the Pacific.

But enough has been heard to present an outline of that game.

From 1940 on, Pacific policy was based entirely on our European objectives in aid of Britain, not on our interest in China.

Pushing our naval and air strength from the Pacific to the Atlantic gave Japan her chance in the Pacific.

Late in 1940 Roosevelt decided on an aggressive economic offensive against Japan to force her to quit. In October, 1940, within a few days of a campaign speech promising no entangling "episodes beyond our border," he wanted to blockade Japan's waters and was dissuaded by Adm. Richardson, who said that would be war.

Ambassador Grew urged an aggressive diplomatic and economic course, with war if necessary. Roosevelt in writing told Grew he agreed with him.

Roosevelt began putting on heat—cut off oil and steel from Japan and seized her assets in Asia.

Roosevelt and Churchill met in the Atlantic, where Roosevelt promised to warn the Japs that any further step meant action by us. Grew said this meant war.

This cut off Japan's essential war resources and she decided she must seize the Dutch East Indies to get oil, steel, etc.

The Japanese war mongers knew this meant war with England and the United States. Prime Minister Konoye admitted Japan must get out of China, and that if Roosevelt would meet him at Honolulu, he would give Roosevelt commitments of such far-reaching character that the President would have to make them possible.

Grew believed this at the time and urged the President to accept.

Roosevelt refused to meet Konoye, and the latter's cabinet fell; Tojo became prime minister and the last real chance for peace had gone.

In a sentence, Roosevelt put heat on Japan to force her to quit, and when the prime minister suggested he would like to quit.

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victim after victim with its deadly danger of pain.

If you are one of those unfortunate people here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from nagging arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be substantially eased, in some cases, by excessive acid wastes within the body.

As a dietary aid to assist the body's faster neutralization and elimination of these excessive acid wastes from tissues and joints, which in turn may tend to bring expedient pain relief to this extent, Vig-Ore Sodium Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vig-Ore Sodium Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vig-Ore Sodium Tablets are free from all harmful Chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind.

CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.95 at any Nature Food Centre Store to get your Vig-Ore Sodium Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring soothing relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other dietary aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS FREE! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vig-Ore Sodium Tablets cost only a few cents a day to use. 250 Tablet Bottle—$1.95. (500 Tablet Economy Size, $3.25.) Mail orders sent postpaid. Navy Explains 18-Point 'Error'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Navy said today Sic Paul I. Stewart, 18-year-old son of Sen. Stewart (D.) of Tennessee had been returned "unintentionally" from the Pacific with a low discharge point score.

Stewart had only 18 points and ordinarily naval personnel are not returned to the United States for duty with less than 38.

The case became public yesterday when the Honolulu edition of the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, reported Stewart's reassignment, and pointed out his low score. The paper asserted he had spent overseas only nine of his 14 months' service.

When the report was brought to the attention of Sen. Stewart, he said, "It's news to me. I never requested this transfer."

U. S. Envoys Probing Iran Separatist Bolt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The State Department said today it had sent three diplomats from the American embassy in Tehran to northern Iran to investigate reports of an Iranian separatist movement there.

Michael J. McDermott, special assistant to Sec. Byrnes, said Byrnes was now carrying on discussions with Great Britain and Russia looking to revision of the Italian armistice terms.

A. J. Haley Heads Boston Kiwanis Club

Aloysius J. Haley of Dorchester was elected president of the Boston Kiwanis Club at the annual meeting at Hotel Touraine.

Others elected were: Thomas J. Donaldson, Fred A. Watson, vice-presidents; Percy J. Trevelyan, secretary; Stewart Lawrence, treasurer; Joseph V. Argus, George A. Nikola, directors.

Added Wealth

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30 (AP)—Seventy-year-old Mrs. Ida N. Reed is happy again. Her "life's savings" of $9195.11 which she kept in a blue denim bag on the kitchen wall have been returned to her.

Mrs. Reed had reported to police her "bank" had disappeared. An investigating officer found it on a bed in a padlocked room which Mrs. Reed said she had not entered for more than a week.

She had told police the amount was $4000 and was smug when the officers counted out over $9000.

Sees Red Win In A-Bomb Race

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Dr. Irving Langmuir predicted today if an atomic armament race develops Russia would produce its first atomic bomb in about three years and possibly accumulate them "far faster" than the United States.

The associate research director of General Electric gave the Senate atomic energy committee half a dozen reasons why he said the Russians would have an advantage:

- 1—A larger population and it can be regimented.
- 2—They have a remarkable system of incentives which is rapidly increasing the efficiency of their industrial production.
- 3—No unemployment.
- 4—No strikes.
- 5—They have a deep appreciation of pure and applied science.
- 6—They have already planned a far more extensive program in science than any contemplated by us.

We must consider also that the Russians have continued the training of scientists during the war to a far greater extent than we have.

Yale Plan Bans A-Bomb Fear

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 30 (AP)—Rejection of "an attitude of abject terror" toward the atomic bomb and consideration, instead, of how it can be controlled was advocated today by the Yale University Institute of International Studies.

The institute recorded its views in a memorandum which is designed, said Prof. Frederick S. Dunn, director of the group, "to provide a careful exploration" of questions dealing with the bomb."

New Club Backs Frank Fay Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Protesting the growth of religious intolerance, an organization called Friends of Frank Fay will meet in Madison Square Garden, Jan. 10, to urge a nationwide fight against Red-Fascist groups which deny freedom of worship.

The rally also will commend Frank Fay, actor, for his battle against intolerant views expressed at a recent Red meeting in the Garden during which Harold J. Lasky, English Labor party leader, speaking by radio, attacked the Catholic Church.

Mrs. William A. Stuart is executive secretary of Friends of Frank Fay. She said 50 religious, patriotic and fraternal organizations comprise the committee sponsoring the rally.

Exile 2 Ex-Presidents Of Venezuela to U.S.

MIAMI, Nov. 30 (AP)—Two former Presidents of Venezuela arrived in Miami today.

Former President Isais Medina Angarita, who was deposed in the recent revolt, said he left because of the demands of the revolutionary government.

"We were under arrest until this morning," he said. "We were invited to leave and arrive as exiles."

Medina was accompanied by ex-President Eleazar Lopez Contreras.

Washington. He is her husband, MM 3c James Carlan, who was given leave from his Navy post in California.

Carlan telephoned that if he could not get a plane at Washington he would come on by train.

"Keep up your courage," he told his wife. "I'm almost home, and I know we are going to find Ronnie."

Lt. Kirby praised all those who have helped so willingly despite the worst weather of the winter season. He said that one nearby police department had checked a "tip" and had reported back their findings in 20 minutes. He said State Police also had been extremely helpful, and that everyone approached had worked as earnestly as if Ronnie was their own.

In a radio appeal broadcast throughout New England, the baby's mother said:

"I hope and pray that the person who took my baby from his carriage yesterday afternoon in Chelsea is listening to me now. If that is so, please, I implore you, return little Ronnie to me. Or if anyone knows of a new and strange baby about six months old in his neighborhood, I beg that person to be charitable enough to let me know. I shall be at my home, 152 Arlington st., Chelsea—waiting and hoping."

"Whoever has my Ronnie—take good care of him for a heart-sick mother's sake. The baby's daddy is a serviceman who has never seen him. His daddy is in the Navy, stationed in California. Anyone who has a heart or any love for a child knows how much I want to have my Ronnie in my arms when his father comes home. Please, please bring Ronnie back."

"My baby is ill with a cold and because of that should be given lots of water and be treated with Penetra. That is spelled P-e-n-e-t-r-a. Ronnie should be fed every four hours. At five in the morning he has his bottle filled with warm Grade A milk, and then has some strained baby food, especially carrots. At nine in the morning I give him Pabulum. That is spelled P-a-b-u-l-u-m. At noon he has a

A Record Beer

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Rose Jelinek, 38, obtained a divorce after deciding 15 years was too long for a short beer. She told the superior court she hadn't seen her husband Joseph, 45, since April 5, 1930, when he said he was going out for a beer and would "be right back."

mashed banana. And either in the morning or afternoon I give him orange juice with cod liver oil. "But I want Ronnie back—desperately. Please, if you have any pity in you, return him to his mother."

The description of the "wonderly" woman in black, given to police by 7-year-old Barbara Eliot of Arlington st., was still the sole lead in the case. Barbara said she had seen the woman snatch little Ronald from his carriage and hurry away in the direction of Third st.

LITHUANIA'S PLEA FOR FREEDOM

The following appeal has been sent to President Truman by the Supreme Lithuanian Committee of Liberation as representative of the Lithuanian Underground Movement, which is carrying on a heroic fight against the absorption of Lithuania by Soviet Russia. The Lithuanian-American Congress, convening in Chicago, will call on all Americans to support the struggle for Lithuanian freedom.

THREE CONSECUTIVE occupations and the military operations in her territory have inflicted terrible wounds on Lithuania. Many of her towns and villages have been left in ruins, her economy, once so flourishing, has been very nearly wrecked.

During the first Soviet occupation, more than 40,000 Lithuanians were deported to the Arctic wastes of Siberia, and to this day their fate causes grave concern to the Lithuanian people. Tens of thousands were done to death solely because they were Lithuanians.

The Nazis, who succeeded the Soviets, destroyed hundreds of thousands of Lithuanians. About 150,000 Lithuanian nationals were forcibly deported as slave laborers to Germany. Hundreds of Lithuanian intellectuals were tortured and put to death in Gestapo prisons and concentration camps.

Panic fear of a second Soviet occupation caused nearly 300,000 Lithuanians to leave their homeland. Today, when Lithuania is for the second time occupied by the Soviets, mass deportations are again being carried out by the NKVD.

The Lithuanian people, outlawed, tortured and deported, appeal to the conscience of the world, praying in despair for help and deliverance. Only a nation which is in possession of its freedom and enjoys independence can heal the wounds caused by war and foreign occupation. Can rebuild its devastated towns and villages, reorganize its economic life, and re-integrate its country into the great process of world reconstruction.

The imposition on Lithuania of any arbitrary ties with the Soviet Union, which is so essentially alien to the Lithuanian nation in speech, religion and culture, would mean the annihilation of the Lithuanian people, who have fought so long and so hard for their liberty, into absolute despair, would paralyze their creative energy, would condemn to permanent emigration about half a million Lithuanians who are today enduring the hard lot of the exile, sustained only by the hope of a speedy return to a free and independent homeland.

NOW THAT hostilities in Europe have ceased and the Allied nations are well on the way to a durable peace founded on law and justice, the Supreme Lithuanian Committee of Liberation takes the liberty of calling your attention, Mr. President, to the situation of the Lithuanian people and the Lithuanian state, and submits the following requests for your favorable consideration:

1—That the Soviet claims to Lithuania, whether based on considerations of security or on the alleged will of the Lithuanian nation as expressed through the so-called "People's Diet," be not recognized as hitherto.

2—That action be taken to induce the Soviet Union to withdraw without delay its army, administration and police from Lithuanian territory, in order that the sovereign institutions of the Lithuanian state may be re-established and they resume their functions. These institutions will maintain order and tranquility in the country and will guarantee to the nation the right of freely expressing its will through unfettered democratic elections.

3—That the United States of America, Great Britain and France take under their protection that portion of the Lithuanian people who have been deported or exiled in consequence of the war. The majority of these people are living at present in Germany, pending the creation of the condition also qua non for their return to their native country, namely, the restoration of the exercise of the sovereign right of the Lithuanian state.

4—That the Soviet Government be prevailed upon to return to Lithuania the Lithuanians who were forcibly deported to the interior of Russia. Until this is done, it is requested that the Lithuanian Red Cross and Lithuanian-American Relief Associations, directly or through the International Red Cross, be permitted to enter into communication with these deportees in order to ascertain their fate, to enable them to communicate with their relatives and friends, and in order that aid may be organized for them.

THE Supreme Lithuanian Committee of Liberation appeals to you, Mr. President, in the name of a small nation of some 3,000,000 people.

The victory won at the cost of so much sacrifice and such great suffering would be troubled, and the sacrifices of the Lithuanian people completely in vain if, at the time when the triumph of the great Western democracies has brought the blessings of liberty to other nations, the Lithuanian nation should be condemned to hopeless slavery and extermination only because, in the words of the Soviet Foreign Commissar, M. Molotov, this state of affairs is demanded by the imperialist Russian policy which has been pursued since the days of Ivan the Terrible.

We avail ourselves, Mr. President, of this opportunity to convey to you the expression of our highest consideration and that of the whole Lithuanian nation.

THE SUPREME LITHUANIAN COMMITTEE OF LIBERATION Representing Lithuanian Underground Movement.

IN HER BOOK, "Marriages Are Made at Home," Clarita De Forceville says: "No man is born a husband. The best husbands are made at home. Candidly, I mean 'trained,' but let us keep it a dark secret. Let me add quickly that wives need to be trained as well." We are glad to be able to record the admission of the necessity of wife training by such a distinguished feminine authority. As always, our Horses & Women Department is at the service of any subscriber who may feel the need of a few hints on the matter of training a wife. Don't hesitate to take advantage of this, gentlemen. All communications considered strictly confidential. Incidentally, the recent research of our experts has uncovered some excellent new advice on the training of red-haired wives.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q: My husband loves dogs as much as you do. Need I say more? Could you name some books on dogs that might interest him? A—"How to Breed Dogs" by Leon F. Whitney. "How to Train Dogs" by H. R. East. "The Sketch Book of Dogs" by Felice Worden. "Nutrition of the Dog" by Clive McKay. "Gun Dogs Afraid" by Horace Lytle.

may be a woman President of the United States in 1964. Several stargazers have predicted a woman President by 1952. I hope to live to see a female President. I am anxious to see how her husband, the first gentleman, will conduct himself.

OBJECTION: In a dispatch I note Carole Landis referred to as "The Buxom Screen Star."

To the use of bum in connection with Miss Landis I strongly object. Webster defines bum as "plump and comely." Carole is comely, but not plump. At least, she wasn't the last time I saw her. I hope she hasn't taken on weight. It always saddens me to see plumpness creeping over an erstwhile streamlined young woman.

BABY SHOES: In 1904, when Jimmy Britt was in his heyday as a lightweight boxer, the British champion, Jabez White, was matched to fight him in San Francisco. White, a sentimental fellow, brought the shoes of his baby along for good luck. He tied them to the ropes in his corner. For 19 rounds the battle between Britt and White was terrific. Eddie Granov, the referee, had about decided to call it a draw. During the 19th round somebody stole White's baby shoes from his corner. The British battler was wild. Instead of resting between rounds he ran around looking for the shoes and loudly demanding they be found. Going out for the 20th round the gallant Britisher was still thinking of the lost baby shoes and kept looking around to see if they had been found. In one of these lapses Britt knocked him out. My informant intimates some of Britt's followers stole the baby shoes in order to disconcert the British fighter. He adds: "It was a dirty trick. We old San Franciscans will always have a soft spot in our hearts for Jabez White, a great fighter, a perfect gentleman and a loving father."

OVER FORTY: Women in their twenties prefer men in their forties as companions and husbands. This is what is frequently claimed. In connection with this, it is interesting to note the following film actors all 40 years of age or older continue to be listed among the major Hollywood heart throbs: Humphrey Bogart, Clark Gable, Charles Boyer, Walter Pidgeon, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Spencer Tracy.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—By the tenor of his welcome to the Labor-Management Conference, President Truman intimated that this would be the last chance for these two undisciplined, brawling giants to agree to some code of rules for the protection of the nation and the public.

There was no reason to hope for success because if there is no true labor movement in the country and if the union executives who purport to represent labor lack both authority and unity then industry, or management, is likewise unorganized.

However, the President seems to have thought that the failure of this conference to produce results would prepare the public mind for firm proposals and remedial laws.

That American labor would welcome such laws when the futility of conferences has been dramatically demonstrated is a reasonable political assumption because the present program of strikes is a series of blows against the nation itself, almost entirely composed of workers, only a small minority of whom are members of the unions.

To be sure, the entire union press would damn such proposals as "anti-labor" moves. But they reach only a minority and even among that minority their old arguments and denunciations have lost force.

Too many hundreds of thousands of workers have suddenly found themselves off the payrolls with jobs available and ordered to turn out at midnight or at dawn to picket for nothing when, at current rates, they would be paid overtime for such hours.

Too many of them have simply been ordered off the job regardless of their desires and their individual necessities at home merely because some man, sitting in the very cabinet of the AFL, has decided on a showdown with an employer.

TO THE LARGER element, the whole public, Mr. Truman will be able to say, if he is alert to his psychological chance, that the kind of strikes that we have had lately are strikes against the security of the United States and will be able to prove his case by dramatic illustrations.

The General Motors' strike is one such for here less than 100,000 workers, imposed upon by clever manipulators of mass psychology, have pulled the switch, so to speak, on the entire process of conversion from war industry to peace industry.

Mr. Truman can point out that there are no laws at present to stay the hand of the reckless union executive.

In recommending laws to put the national safety and the interests of the overwhelming majority beyond such threats and danger, he may count on a joyous response from the public and quick action from Congress, including even the Senate which hitherto has been deterred from such action only by orders from the White House which killed in committee, and without argument on the Senate floor, acts that were passed by the House.

THE POINT to be emphasized in such an appeal is that, after all, if the national government of the United States cannot legally protect itself and the interests of the people from this rising danger, then the government must abdicate to a few private organizations whose own rules are, up to now, strictly their own private business, subject to no court or law and whose officials may be declared enemies of the American form of government.

Such laws very well could restrict the right to strike on such an issue as a demand by a group of union executives for the right to limit profits and regulate the retail prices of automobiles. It has been only during the last few years that even the government has exercised that power and the regulation of profits was accomplished indirectly by taxation and of prices by special war-time laws.

Here, a small group demands that power by which it could destroy the automobile industry or "socialize" it and, because the management refuses to negotiate the question, calls a strike that may soon blockade reconversion, including housing and re-employment generally.

Mr. Truman would not offend public opinion but, on the contrary, would hearten the whole nation, including labor, should he propose a law to exclude from the valid strike issues all demands of this kind, which are only pretexts, anyway.

Mr. Truman has a beautiful opportunity and, ironically, the most helpful spade-work has been done for him in recent weeks by unionists who have frightened and angered the whole people, the public of the United States.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30—Greta Garbo is not going to make music with Bing Crosby in that Billy Wilder-Charles Brackett comedy. She has definitely turned down the Viennese story that might have brought her back in a big way.

Billy told me that "she's frightened of it," and he said: "I don't believe she'll ever make another picture. She's as frightened of pictures as she is of personal appearances and everything else that brings her in contact with people."

Greta Garbo

He had no more than told me that when I heard M-G-M had bought "The Life of the Heart," by Frances Winwar, the story of George Sand, with Garbo in mind. Garbo, herself, is intrigued with this best seller which presents in a delightfully readable way the story of the lady who wore trousers, wrote books, lived with Alfred de Musset, knew Liszt, Beethoven and all the talented men of her era.

I criticized Garbo for her failure to do this, that and the other thing—but if she's really as terrified of people as Billy says, then I am sorry for her. Garbo is a great artist and has a lot to offer as an actress.

BILL GOETZ' first purchase since the "U" merger is "My True Love," a novel he just bought in New York. When Bill told me over the long-distance phone, just before taking the train back to Los Angeles, that he had bought this story by Darwin Teilhet, as Joseph Sistrum's first movie for International, I said: "Who's it for?" Then he started telling me the story. "Oh, Gary Cooper!" I answered, quick as a flash—I'm smart like that and he didn't deny it. The affiliation of Arthur Rank and William Goetz certainly gives Universal a potent punch as a releasing company.

THEODORE DREISER'S novel of 20 years ago, "An American Tragedy," which brought forth editorials, sermon, and wide discussions, will have John Lund in the role of the boy. Paramount made the picture some years ago, but it wasn't what you might call very successful. Irvin Shaw, who is writing the script, has been warned to keep censorship in mind. But since the story is that of a boy who grows his sweetheart when he learns of her approaching motherhood, because he wants to marry an heiress, I should think it would be a Herculean task. Lund was the boy who was in "Hasty Heart" and who made a picture for Warner's.

I AM INTRIGUED with the title and subject of Irving Stone's coming book. He's calling it "The Magnificent Doll" and it will be the story of the popular Dolly Madison, the first lady whose beauty and personality yielded great influence in early American history. She has been often credited with being the first one to decorate the White House and make it suitable for a President. The Stones were at the cocktail party Mary Anita Loos and Richard Sale gave for Dorothy Kilgallen and her husband, Richard Kollmar. I'd be willing to bet this Stone novel will be nabbed, but quickly, by the movies. I often wondered why somebody didn't do a biography of the fair Dolly.

ELYSE KNOX hasn't made a movie since the birth of her baby six months ago—but everything is going to be different now. She has stepped out and got herself a job, the femme starring role in "Joe Looks, Champ." Need I add—it's a prize fight yarn with the current "Champ," Joe Louis, and the champ of another day, Max Baer, in the cast. Elise is really happy these days because her husband, Tommy Harmon, is back home from his radio job in the East. He's accepting no more deals back there because he wants to remain here with Elise and the baby.

WHEN SOMERSET MAUGHAM was here consulting with Darryl Zanuck on "The Razor's Edge" he attended a party one night and saw little Cathy Downs. "I don't know who that youngster is," he said to Darryl, "but she's the most beautiful girl I have ever seen." In spite of a boost like that, 20th didn't do much with Cathy the first six months of her contract. Now, I am told, she's to be given the stellar build up, and leaps, feet first, into the feminine lead opposite Clifton

Boston American, Nov. 30—33

Webb in "The Dark Corner." At least, she plays his faithless wife, a role with vitamins and not just a typical ingenue bread and butter role.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Clark Gable's favorite director, Victor Fleming, and M-G-M have parted. "His whispered Vic, who directed Clark's latest movie, is forming his own company; Turhan Bey, who gets a cool reception from most of Hollywood, was at the Colony House with Peggy Badley, with whom he is now doing the hand-kissing act; Lorena Danker, with a hat that had all the other women drooling, dining and dancing with Joseph Schenck; I am so happy to be able to say that Mrs. Rudy Mate's baby, born prematurely, lived. Her husband is Rita Hayworth's cameraman on "Gilda." The baby, now in an incubator, has a good chance of winning its fight for life; Mervyn Le Roy and Mrs. Kitty Spiegel are back where they started. They've been out together for dinner almost every evening. Mrs. Spiegel gave a cocktail party honoring Doris and Jules Steins' house guest, Lady Marks, and Mervyn was there.

KURT KREUGER is shopping for a dime store. Now dime store owners, don't all talk at once; Richard Gully is back in town until the 10th of January. He then joins Sol Rosenblatt, former Roosevelt man, in a trip around the world on a special job; Mrs. Arthur Lyons proved herself a wonderful hostess and Dorothy Lamour received dozens and dozens of beautiful gifts for her baby. It's wonderful to see Dorothy so happy. Maj. William Howard was almost as excited as his bride.

Pinch-hitting for Dorothy Kilgallen, who is on vacation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—I've been around bobby soxers long enough to realize that they're nothing more than typical teen-age girls, normal in every respect including home, school, studies, friends and habits.

And in being average teen-age girls they are intelligent, sensible.

They have minds of their own and are tired of being regarded as just kids.

Of course, as is the case with any group, be it boys, girls, men or women, there are exceptions. They are the unruly, noisy element, who in the main have caused heaps of criticism to be hurled at all teen-age girls, branding them as an irresponsible, ill-bred bunch of fanatics.

This is quite unfair, for, by and large, the bobby soxer is a sweet, attractive miss who in a few years will become a charming, gracious woman.

MANY PEOPLE have mischaracterized her by the sloppy sweater and brown and white saddle shoes she might wear to school or play.

This, too, is all wrong, for she is probably more fashion-conscious than any other age group in America.

Fashion experts throughout the nation will substantiate this. They'll tell you that the greatest influx of ideas and style changes in clothes has evolved in the teen-age departments of most of our department and specialty stores.

So don't pay an ear to those wisecracks who try to pass her off as a sloppy Joe.

BUT THE MOST wonderful thing that I've discovered about the little ladies is that most of them are unprejudiced, unbiased and tolerant individuals—that they're real Americans at work and play.

When you reason with them you won't find the ingrained hates that might prevail in the minds of some of their own parents.

They're America's future.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Please do not stumble or fall again Rep. Sam M. Russell of Stephenville, Tex., while you are riding on a train, or you will rue it. The Hon. Sam, a terror when aroused, is almost sure to introduce a bill in Congress.

This must not be construed as implying that Rep. Russell is cantankerous. You wouldn't want to meet a more pleasant fellow, you certainly wouldn't. They tell me that at convivial affairs, such as outings of the Texas W. C. T. U., he is positively jovial.

However, he does not like to be jostled by persons under the influence of that vile stuff while riding trains. I do not know where he likes to be jostled, but not on trains.

It seems the Hon. Sam was returning from St. Louis recently when two merry-makers fell on him. Instead of entering into the spirit of the thing, such as slipping them a Mickey Finn in return, he came back to Washington with non-alcoholic fire in the eye and introduced a bill asking Congress to make railroads financially responsible for the activities of bon vivants on their trains.

MR. RUSSELL went further. He said that more than half the men in his car were plastered and that many of them were young service men. He added that the Army is too tolerant toward drinking and other moral issues and has thus insured its chances of getting the universal training bill passed.

As everyone knows, the Army just plays with the men to go out and get plastered. In fact, a general can't pass an enlisted man without trying to lure him into a saloon and get him tanked to the ears. The spectacle of a five-star general and a private rolling across a regimental parade ground arm in arm is so common as to go unnoticed.

Personally, I think the Army should ease up in its constant efforts to get the man drunk.

scious than any other age group in America.

Fashion experts throughout the nation will substantiate this. They'll tell you that the greatest influx of ideas and style changes in clothes has evolved in the teen-age departments of most of our department and specialty stores.

So don't pay an ear to those wisecracks who try to pass her off as a sloppy Joe.

BUT THE MOST wonderful thing that I've discovered about the little ladies is that most of them are unprejudiced, unbiased and tolerant individuals—that they're real Americans at work and play.

When you reason with them you won't find the ingrained hates that might prevail in the minds of some of their own parents.

They're America's future.

YES, I'VE spoken to them and, believe me, they realize their future responsibilities. And don't you worry—they'll measure up to them.

Indicative is their splendid war record. Many of them took over the home so that their parents could keep turning out those ships and shells. Others joined the Cadet Nurses Corps and countless other organizations that were instrumental in winning the war.

And they'll keep the peace, too. Just give them a chance to all they ask. They're the ones who are most active within the various youth movements working for racial tolerance.

And they're the ones who, with the aid of right-thinking Americans, will help ferret out the menacing forces that threaten our way of life. I'm proud of them.

"I'll bet you five dollars I do!"

To date no one has ever taken him up.

I WAS TALKING to William P. Flythe, Sr., veteran Washington reporter, about what constitutes a good diplomat. Mr. Flythe's definition was:

"One who takes a sensible way out!"

Mr. Flythe said the best exponent of this creed was Sir Ronald Lindsay, who used to be British ambassador.

"Sir Ronald told me of an episode that best illustrates this," said Mr. Flythe. "The ambassador was the house guest of a hostess who prided herself on her antique furniture. Sir Ronald knew this, and was careful not to bust anything."

"But one morning, when no one was around, he sat down on a gilt chair and it collapsed under him. Now here is where the true diplomat comes in."

"Instead of causing all-around embarrassment by reporting the mishap to his hostess, Sir Ronald calmly broke the chair in small pieces and burned them in the fireplace."

Flythe paused introspectively. "It just occurred to me," he said. "Do you know I bet that hostess doesn't know to this day whatever became of her chair?"

THE OPA announces that manufacturers may now ask increased prices for men's long-sleeved ankle-length union suits which weigh nine pounds and over.

I thought at first that "nine pounds and over" was a misprint, but OPA repeated the figure several times. I asked Miss Reid what she thought about it.

"We should never question OPA," she said. "But I personally would not care to have a date with a man wearing a 9-pound union suit."

"Why?" I asked.

"Because," said Miss Reid, primly, "I like heavy dates—but not that heavy!"

Boston After Dark

OUR FRIEND and colleague, Austen Lake, has done a consummate job of retailing to you the woes of the lads still in the military and naval service of Uncle Sam... Austen's column of Monday past in which he revealed, through a letter from a literate Naval officer, the story of decommissioning a $billion worth of American fleet, in a desolate bayou on Florida's St. Johns River named Green Cove Springs was as fantastic and interesting a tale as the postwar travail has disgorged... Today, we pass along the story of a Navy officer who has managed to get himself out of uniform, but who is having his troubles at Tech, as you will see... Herewith:

"I ENLISTED in the Naval Reserve in September, 1939, was graduated from college with a B. S. in 1943... I was commissioned and sent to New York to commission the U. S. S. Cushing, DD797, and to take her to sea as assistant engineer... I rode her until I was sent back to St. Albans Naval Hospital in April, '45, and was honorably discharged (medical) in August past..."

OUR CORRESPONDENT then enclosed a factual history of the U. S. S. Cushing's service with the Pacific Fleet... That she is one of our most famous destroyers is known generally... The U. S. S. Cushing compiled the following record: Four Jap planes shot down in flames; 10 more destroyed in collaboration; 35 "splashed" by carrier planes controlled by Fighter Director Officer on the Cushing; possible damage to one enemy submarine; participation in 16 naval campaigns including a pre-invasion shore bombardment of Okinawa and another on the home island of Honshu; and the rescue from the open sea of 31 American and two British aviators whose planes crashed or made water landings.

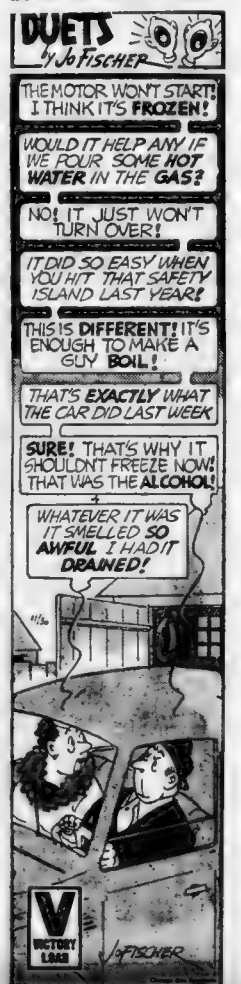

THE ROLL-CALL of the Cushing's campaigns, all "battlestar" engagements is: Capture of the Southern Palau Islands; Assaults on the Philippines (mid-September '44; Leyte landings, October '44); Battle for Leyte Gulf, Okinawa Attack, Formosa Attacks, Luzon Attacks, Visayas Attacks, Ormoc Bay, Mindoro, Lingayen Gulf Landings, Luzon and Formosa Attacks (January, '45); China Coast Attacks, Nansei Shoto Attacks, Assault and Occupation of Iwo Jima and Fifth Fleet Raids against Honshu and Nansei Shoto (February and March, '45). Assault and Occupation of Okinawa, Final Attacks against Jap Home Islands... Quite a bit of action!... So we resume our correspondent's letter:

"WHEN I WAS DISCHARGED in August I decided to go back to school for a year or so to get back in the swing of things or perhaps try for a doctor's degree... Like other veterans, I don't have a lot of money, so I applied for and was granted educational benefits under the GI bill... But $50 a month is not enough to live on in Boston today when one has to 'eat out'."

"BEING UNABLE to work outside of school hours due to disability and having already registered at M. I. T., I appealed as a last resort to a member of the Tech Loan Fund Board for a loan to augment my meagre funds... I had worked my way through college before I joined the Navy, and I still had been able to come out in the upper 20 per cent of my class... I probably was the youngest senior engineering officer aboard destroyers in the Pacific Fleet."

"BUT I WAS told bluntly by this member of the loan fund committee that I was com-

"MY DECISION IS BEING influenced by one of the best lessons I learned in service... That is, that no matter how hopeless the situation seems, to keep on fighting... That is about all I have to say... In closing I'd like to confess the thought which keeps flashing before my mind... I wonder if the erstwhile member of the loan committee who calculated me a poor risk knows what in the hell the word risk means?"

Kenny-Trained Nurses Will Save Thousands

Thousands of victims of infantile paralysis can be saved from the crippling effects of the disease if a sufficient number of nurses are trained in the Sister Elizabeth

Kenny technique of treatment, officials of the campaign now being conducted throughout the country said today.

"In Massachusetts, where we are trying to raise $200,000 toward the national goal of $5,000,000," Bert McKenzie, field director for the New England area said, "there are less than a score of adequately trained nurses in the Sister Kenny method."

"Twenty-five per cent of all the money collected in this drive will be devoted to training nurses in the Kenny methods." McKenzie pointed out that one half of all the funds raised in every state will be placed in trust toward the erection of hospitals and clinics for the treatment of infants under the Sister Kenny system.

All donations should be sent to the Sister Kenny Foundation, care of Bert McKenzie, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, 46 Church st., Boston.

Schools to Get Exam Papers

Alva Southworth, president of the Boston History Teachers' Council, notified school principals today that official examination papers in the Hearst Newspapers American History awards will be delivered starting Wednesday, to each school competing in the contest.

The envelopes containing the examinations, however, will be placed in custody of the headmasters or Sisters Superior in the public and parochial high schools, and will not be opened until the morning of the examination.

The semi-final examinations will be held in the competing schools on Friday, Dec. 7, and will be based on American history during the period between 1781 and 1825.

History teachers in the respective schools will grade the papers, and each high school will forward the three top examinations to the Boston School Committee or to the supervisor of parochial schools. Papers will then be judged by a board of examiners and 25 winners selected.

RED CROSS UNITS TO SAIL

DOROTHY MAYNOR STRICKES
DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—Dorothy Maynor, celebrated Negro soprano, was rushed to Ford Hospital following a practice recital with the Detroit Symphony, and friends said she would undergo an appendectomy.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY
The Veterans' Friend Editor would like to find Lt. Richard G. Keene, U. S. A. A. F. who made a crash landing in Gunsett, Alsace, about 11 months ago. The pilot of the dive bomber is believed to live in or near Boston.

A former soldier who now lives in Pittsfield made several photographs of Lt. Keene and his plane which was wrecked as he was returning from a successful bombing mission. The photographs were promised him, but the Pittsfield veteran lost his address. The pictures were forwarded to the Veterans' Friend Editor and will be gladly forwarded to Lt. Keene.

Q—I enlisted in the regular Army in June, 1934. At the time I was a resident of Leominster, Mass. While stationed at Ft. Ethan Allen I married a Burlington, Vt., girl and since that time have given Burlington as my home address. I wrote the Veterans Bureau chief in Vermont seeking information as to my eligibility for that state's bonus. He has informed me that I had not been a resident of Vermont for a year prior to my original enlistment. Would I be entitled to the Massachusetts bonus instead? A. B. Ft. Devens.

A—Suggest you write to State Treasurer John Hurley, State House, Boston, Mass., and give full explanation of your enlistment, etc. Your case is one that will necessitate investigation for a decision.

Q Have you any information regarding the 3d Marine Camp Det. as to when they will return? D. S., Cambridge.

A—Last word was they had been in Havant and alerted for shipping. Due to present shipping conditions, unable to give any further information.

Q—I was discharged from the service Oct. 9, 1945, and received my first instalment of mustering out pay. I have two more checks due me but have not received the second one yet. What can I do to trace this? S. E., Burlington.

A—It is suggested that you write to the Finance Office of the Separation Center from which you were discharged, giving full information as to your Army serial number and date of discharge.

Q—Where can a veteran obtain a discharge button? T. M. Newton.

A—Lapel buttons for discharged veterans may be obtained from a recruiting office in the First Service Command. Free meetings places have been provided by the Boston School Committee, in co-operation with the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser at 14 school centers in the city where ex-servicemen can meet their former buddies, discuss organization plans and check on jobs. Information about these centers can be obtained by telephoning Dept. Extended Use of Public School, Cap. 5500, or inquiring at 15 Beacon st.

Youth Held, Another Freed In Hoves Beating at Lynn

One Lynn youth was held and another freed today when arraigned in Lynn District Court in connection with the Thanksgiving Day slugging of Frederick D. Howes, 28, Mercha Marine officer, beaten while accompanying his sister, Madeline WAC major.

Richard F. Corney, 17, of Chatham st., charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, was held in $1000 bail for the next session of the grand jury.

Judge Ralph Roe found no probable cause in the case of Peter J. Tournas, 1 of Summer st., Lynn.

Howes appears as a witness with his head bandaged, remembered little except that he had been struck.

Several persons testified to having seen an argument when Judge Reeve interruptedly: "Let's get down to brassacks. Have the police any sense of a dangerous weapon being used?"

Chief Insp. Charles T. Duggan then testified a blackjack had been found in front of the Lynn Oxford Club, where Howes was held.

Police had stated Howes was hit because he objected to slurring remarks made to his sister. Duggan testified, however, that Tournas' remark was, "Gee, there's a WAC major. I never saw one with that high rank before."

Defense Atty. Frank A. Cashman asked that a warrant be issued from the bench charging Howes with assault and battery. Judge Reeve suggested he make the request before the grand jury. Cashman said he would.

Abington Legislator Dies, Funeral Sunday

Rep. William A. Brown of Abington, member of the Public Welfare and Highways and Motor Vehicles Committee, died today. Funeral services will be held at the North Abington Congregational Church Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

He is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Coriana Jeffreys Brown, and three children of his first wife, the late Ruby Tirrell Brown.

Britain Cuts U. S. Air Line Fares

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pan American World Airways said tonight the British government had ordered the company to reduce its transatlantic schedule from five flights a week to two.

A company statement said the order was in retaliation for the low rates established by Pan American for transatlantic air travel. The company's $275 fare is about $300 less than the wartime rate.

Show Seats Free To Bond Buyers

Greater Boston citizens will have a chance tomorrow to combine Christmas shopping with the obtaining of tickets to the all-star Victory Loan show, "Yanks on Parade," to be staged at the Boston Opera House Friday night, Dec. 14.

The bond show, which comes a week after the official close of the Victory Loan drive on Dec. 8, is expected to assure the success of the Greater Boston campaign to raise $88,236,000 by sales to individuals before the end of the final accounting period on Dec. 31.

Tickets, which will be distributed on a "first come, first served" basis, may be obtained by purchasing Victory Bonds at any member store of the Boston Retail Trade Board.

The gala show will be headed by Bob Hawk, quizmaster of the CBS comedy quiz, "Thanks to the Yanks," and this featured vocalist, Dolly Dawn, whose last Boston appearance was with her own orchestra at the Club Mayfair.

Bond sale statistics through last Wednesday showed that Massachusetts had attained 38.6 per cent of its E bond quota with sales of $25,100,000. Purchasers of issues other than E bonds continued to push sales well beyond the goal, with a total of $83,200,000 against the $65,000,000 quota. Total sales to individuals in the state were $110,300,000 or 84.9 per cent of the goal.

United American Veterans Back War Memorial Plan

The proposed memorial to be erected in the nation's capital to honor the unknown Americans who sacrificed their lives for their country in World War II today had the endorsement of the Massachusetts Department, United American Veterans.

Originally suggested editorially by the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser and other Hearst newspapers, the memorial would be along the lines of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I in Washington, and would represent both the European and Pacific war theaters.

"Please accept our most sincere congratulations on your suggestion to establish a memorial that will perpetuate the memory of the 300,000 Americans who gave their lives in World War II," wrote Frederick T. Gaunt, Massachusetts Department Commander, UAV.

"Although your sponsorship of this project should be all that is required to insure its success, we sincerely hope that the United American Veterans will be permitted to assist in accelerating its materialization."

E BOND SALES NEAR GOAL.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Individual purchases of Victory Bonds thus far total $3,393,000,000, of which $306,000,000 is in E-Bonds, the Treasury reported. The individual goal is $4,000,000,000.

Make Christmas Gifts In Your Own Kitchen

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

IF YOU WOULD LIKE to cut down your prospects of hurried last-minute Christmas shopping, why not plan to send gifts that are truly custom-made—by yourself, in your own kitchen? Any good cook book will give you a number of fine suggestions for cookies, tarts, candies and little cakes which make attractive and memorable gifts. Prettily boxed and decked with holly sprigs and bright ribbon, they will be a credit to your thoughtfulness and ingenuity.

First on our list is a recipe for coffee mince—a wonderful old recipe which our grandmothers used.

COFFEE MINCE

- 1 lb. stewing beef
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 tsp. salt
- 4 cups chopped apples
- 1/2 pkg. seeded raisins
- 1 pkg. seedless raisins
- 1 cup ground orange peel
- 1 cup chopped citron, if available
- 1/2 lb. chopped suet
- 1 cup meat stock
- 1 cup molasses
- 2 cups strong coffee
- 1 cup cider or fruit juice
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 tsp. cloves
- 1/2 tsp. allspice

Simmer beef with boiling water and salt until very tender. Drain, reserve stock and chop meat. Combine with fruit, orange peel and citron, suet, stock, molasses, coffee, and cider or fruit juice in a large kettle. Mix sugar with spices and add to mixture. Stir over heat until thoroughly mixed, and continue cooking over low heat about 2 hours until most of the liquid is absorbed. Stir occasionally during cooking and often as mixture thickens. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal completely. Makes about 5 1/2 pints. For 9-inch pie allow 2 1/2 cups mince.

A second gift suggestion is a delicious fruit cake that delights old and young alike.

BERKSHIRE FRUIT CAKE

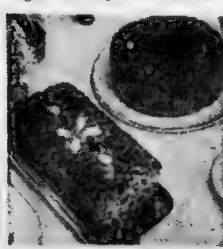

- 3-13 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 tsp. double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cloves
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. mace
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup butter or other shortening
- 6 eggs, well beaten
- 4 1/2 cups raisins
- 4 1/2 cups currants
- 1 cup thinly cut citron
- 1/2 cup grape juice
- 1/4 cup light molasses

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add fruit, grape juice, and molasses, and mix well. Add flour gradually, beating after each addition until smooth. Turn into tube pan, which has been greased, lined with heavy paper, and again greased. Bake in very slow oven (250 deg. F.) 4 1/2 hours or until done. Makes 5 1/2 lbs. fruit cake.

CRANBERRY AND ORANGE JELLY

- (Using canned cranberry juice)
- 3 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups cranberry juice
- 1 1/2 cups orange juice
- 1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare orange juice, squeeze and strain juice from 3 medium oranges. Measure sugar into dry bowl and set side until needed. Measure juices into a 3 to 4-quart saucepan and place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim and pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 7 glasses (6 fluid ounces each). Don't move or mail it for 10 days to 2 weeks. Make it soon, so that the jelly has time to set properly.

Flared-Skirt Model Coat

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE STYLES are bustin' out all over with flares. Within the strict limits of L-85, the fashions have managed to get in a bit of fullness here and there, just to satisfy that longing most women seem to have for clothes less strict, less straight up and down. A notable trend is the cloth coat with a skirt that looks quite full. You'll see examples of this kind of thing in all good shops.

One of the new flared-skirt models from a fine custom collection is sketched. Here a fitted coat, designed by Carl Sidney for Marjorie Castle, is gored from a bolero top, and the gores break into flares from hips to hem, which makes the skirt seem quite full. A beautiful black, rough wool makes the coat, and there is a vivid blue and black scarf at the neckline.

Tops in Night Creams

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

WHEN IT COMES TO BEAUTY...

we toss the challenging gauntlet of discredit and disbelief to that torch ballad... "Oh, Lord, you made the night too long." For most of us, that's the time when the cosmetics... those we love and cherish and entrust with magical powers... do their valiant work in restoring the blush of youth to the complexion in a process of facial renovation where renovation is all too badly needed. Especially now.

While we off to bed for fanciful and sweet dreams... a night cream pursues its purposeful procedure practically forcing those slumbering hours, the longer the better, to come through with a smooth, soft, petal-touched complexion... a realization of those hopes of facial loveliness.

A night cream isn't just an extra cosmetic. Too many women think of it in just that light. They think it's fine to use if, perchance, they happen to have a jar. But, they don't consider it the real essential, the absolute necessity it is to any routine.

We venture to say that if every girl used a night cream in the lower-bracket years she wouldn't need to resort to the more radical cosmetics in later life. Smart women who use a night cream and have discovered its smoothing and softening qualities wouldn't be without it... no matter what other cosmetics are listed on their beauty bill of fare.

MAKES FOR STUNNING APPEAL

This may be a prosaic comparison, but it serves as an illustration. Cheese is a toothsome edible. Most of us like it on crackers. But take a cheese that's nestled in brandy, for instance, or wine... Immediately it becomes a delicacy. You cream cleanse your face. You firm the facial contours with an astringent. That's a fair routine. But add to it the nightly application of a night cream and then see if your countenance doesn't take on the qualities of a beauty delicacy. There's one that's especially rich in emollients... a joy to use.

Your skin will be as smooth as a gardenia leaf with the same vital, resilient quality that makes for stunning appeal. There will be no trace of dryness... no facial lines to contend with... no etched record of the day's fatigue and trying activities. The ultimate complexion will be a credit to your efforts. There will be no sign of passing youth.

For the name of this softening essential, the night cream, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Says Courts No Solution

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

DOES ANYONE know a way out of this woman's plight? She has four children, is not yet 30 years of age and is the wife of a habitual drunkard. She says:

"Things like courts are no solution of my problem. I've tried the courts. The judge will fine or reprimand a wife-beater or send him to jail, and the wife will get a worse beating when he comes home again."

The woman writes she has never been a good housekeeper, but that she has done her best, and that keeping house for someone would be her only means of earning a living for herself and children. But who would take in four children in these days of food shortage?

She had gone along trying to make the best of things, until she found in her 12-year-old boy's school-book a couple of newspaper clippings telling of children who had killed their fathers for drunkenness and abuse of their families.

NEEDS TO BE TAUGHT

"Where can I put my children?" she asks. "Where can I be taught some decent way to support them? I've had a high school education, was married at 17, turned out-of-doors by my stepfather for marrying a 'no good drunkard.' My mother is dead. I have no near relatives. My husband can't keep a job; he has a little income from his late father."

"In this country there are homes for the aged, asylums for foundlings, orphanages for children, hospitals for the sick, even rescue homes for animals, but where can a mother go to be taught some useful skill that will help her bring up her children and make good citizens of them? DISTRAUGHT."

If this correspondent is watching her home-town paper for a reply to her letter, may I ask that she send me her correct name and address? If she's afraid to do this because her husband may get the letter and abuse her for writing, she should make arrangements at the post office to get a reply through General Delivery.

Louis Prima Jive Fans Pack RKO-Boston Shows

By PEGGY DOYLE

The RKO-Boston had its biggest opening in months yesterday when rain-drencher bobby-stockers, who had been dancing to Louis Prima's groovy music this past week at one-night stands around Boston, stormed the opening show.

The balcony, invariably roped off against the destructive exuberance of these first-show school-dodgers, was opened up to accommodate the queues of kids and get them in out of the rain.

From the first downbeat of "White Cliffs of Dover," Prima and his band had the looney-for-Louis capacity house eating out of their hands. "Caldonia" followed and when Prima sang "What makes your big head so hard?" these hip kids chorused right on the beat. "Rocks."

The band leader's famous "Rob-John" and his comedy number, "Felicia No Capicia," set the kids to whistling and stomping. Lily Ann Carol, who is said to be a local Italian girl named Grecco, is the band's vocalist. She is a charming brunette whose warbling is as velvety as these big, brown eyes.

She sang "Begin the Beguine," a medley of "It's Been a Long, Long Time" and "Fond Affection."

Dignity Marks Met's Romantic Hit

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

"Love Letters," at the Metropolitan, is essentially a woman's picture if it is true that the weaker sex is the more appreciative of tenderness and romance. At any rate, it is one of the better Hollywood efforts in that direction.

Jennifer Jones and Joseph Cotten, the principals, portray people of unusual sensitiveness and imagination, and the love story is an idyll that brooks no wisecracks.

Jennifer gives a brilliant performance as a girl who falls in love with the letters written her by an officer she has met but once, and who marries him to find that the letters were written by a fellow soldier and are in no way representative of her husband.

Joseph Cotten adds another splendid performance to his enviable list of successes.

The story as it develops comes close to melodrama. The portrayal of their marriage, ecstatic but haunted by both their fears, was extremely difficult to achieve, but it has been done with dignity and delicacy.

By JACK CONWAY

It was as an All-America champion that Priest first distinguished himself in the ring. As an amateur Priest was a first-class boxer and a stout-hearted warrior who liked to parade to close quarters behind a barrage of left and right-hand blows.

Johnny Cuddy promoted Kloby's bouts in Lawrence, "Subsie" Sullivan was the Salem promoter, while Roy Green's Fenway A. A. kept Kloby in the headlines in Boston.

Priest is a better boxer than Kloby was in his peak. "Red" does not hit as hard as Kloby, though I doubt whether Cabral or Eskew would accept this statement as correct.

BILLY FURRONE is not a big name fighter. He is what the promoters and fans refer to as a club fighter. A club fighter is a carefree youth who will take a punch on the chin to land a healthy wallop on his opponent's solar plexus.

Furrone twice has gone 10 rounds with Billy Arnold in Philadelphia. This of itself is a strong recommendation as Arnold is one of the most colorful punchers developed in Philadelphia since Lew Tendler was knocking out the opposition.

Priest figures on cold form to win from Furrone, but it is unlikely he will hang the Philadelphian on the ropes as he did Cabral and Eskew. It should be a hard, bitter fight with Priest having enough boxing class and gunfire to win.

The eight-round semifinal will feature Dave Andrews of Lowell, another former All-America champion, against Lou Fortuna of Philadelphia.

SAM SILVERMAN of the Calahan A. C. is back where he started in Boston boxing with a top local attraction between Timothy (Buddy) Hayes of the South End and Tommy Moore of South Boston signed to battle at Mechanics Building on Monday night. Hayes and Moore recently furnished a torrid bout here, Hayes winning a split decision.

Moore feels he will be able to reverse the score on Monday night. The good citizens of South Boston will come marching over from Broadway to see Moore justify his belief in himself.

Hayes is not a big name fighter like Willie Pep, but he will take chances when in the ring, and the fans will get action for their money.

his first major mistake when he sent the inexperienced Eddie Giosa against the skillful Pep. The public was offered a poor show, while Silverman only ended up with headaches. Perhaps Sam has learned his lesson. Anyhow he has resumed his original tactics of offering an action bout with Hayes and Moore carrying the banners.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 30—A confident squad of Harvard football toilers arrived here this afternoon for the renewal of their ancient series with Yale in the Bowl tomorrow. Underdogs in the betting, the Crimson players were anything but discouraged in manner as they prepared to head for an afternoon drill in the Bowl before settling down in Choate School for the night.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30 (AP)—Jack Dempsey said in an interview last night that an association which he heads is seeking the idle franchise of the Brooklyn Americans in the National Hockey League and also plans to build a new arena in New York.

Here to referee a wrestling bout Dempsey said a recent meeting in Montreal with Red Dutton, president of the N.H.L., concerned the Americans' franchise but didn't get past the "discussion stage." He indicated he was seeking Dutton as an associate in the hockey setup.

Should the Americans' franchise be obtained, there would be no attempt to operate the club in Brooklyn. Instead, "we plan building a new arena in New York and would stage hockey games, boxing bouts and other sports," Dempsey disclosed.

He said that Mike Jacobs, New York sports promoter, was "a great fellow, but I believe that one man should not control any sport."

Looking into the future, the former world champ could see the day when television would change the entire sports picture, particularly boxing. When television comes, the day of big crowds would be a thing of the past. Dempsey believes, but the big "cut" to athletes would remain because of radio and television rights.

Storm Loss Huge; Snow, Cold Due

Beachmont Hard Hit by Storm—Greater Boston's worst November storm created this scene in Beachmont . . . as the heaviest surf in years pounded at beach-front homes and flooded scores of streets. This is a view of the Jones rd. area . . . where a rowboat is being used to rescue marooned families . . . and an effort is being made to tow an automobile from the flooded section.

Hull Homes Damaged—Heavy surf breaking over the sea wall damaged these homes in Gun Rock ter. in Hull, forced many people to evacuate the area . . . and left scores of roads under water. In other areas of the South Shore the pounding surf gouged out huge sections of sea walls. See other pictures on Pages 30 and 31.
